Tesseract Communications Ltd

Dear Christine,

I want to thank you for the incredible work you have done for me this year.

I've always known and understood the power of a Blog but have always struggled with being able to consistently put one together. When I engaged you to write my blogs for me, I was blown away by the amount of research you do for each and every one. Your enthusiasm for any subject that gets thrown at you is truly remarkable.

In addition, I asked for your help when recently launching a new product. I struggled with what to call it, but as you understand the journey I take my clients through, you came up with a way to link it so beautifully with my existing products & tie it in with the Andromeda brand.

As you say, "Good writing is good business" and you have helped to take my marketing to another level. For that, I thank you from the bottom of my heart and I would not hesitate in recommending you to other business owners.

Thank you!

Yours sincerely

Kirsty
