

Kirsty Parris
Andromeda Business Consulting

Kirsty is a breath of fresh air.

Having worked with a few business coaches over the year and even traveling as far as Miami to develop my business knowledge, I was looking for someone to help me directly with my business. I needed and wanted to understand the way I work and recognised that I needed help to develop to serve my customers better.

After an initial introductory meeting, I engaged Kirsty to deliver her GAP Programme. It was an intense but incredibly rewarding experience. Having worked with coaches before I thought I knew what to expect. However, Kirsty's unique approach helped unlock my thinking and identified what the gaps in my business were. By the end of the session, we had an action plan for moving my business forward.

Kirsty helps organise my thoughts, clarifies my next business steps, giving me constructive advice and working with me on areas that need improvement. From taking random 'mind dump' emails at silly o'clock on the morning and building them into the business plan so that they are achievable to going into depth in developing a solid marketing strategy, Kirsty has become a tremendous support.

During the testing times of COVID-19, Kirsty was a great help not only supporting the business but keeping me focused and following the plans we were working towards.

If you're looking for a business coach that wants to understand your business and help you achieve your goals, then talk to Kirsty as her knowledge and experience will most definitely help your business grow to the next level and beyond.

Chris Brown
Managing Director